Bali & Beyond Destination
Specially Presented to the 2018
IMF-WBG Annual Meetings Delegation

wonderful
indonesia

Bali has for many decades been an icon of tropical island paradises and it is still the flagship for the Indonesian tourism sector and of course we offer many nature, golf, marine, and cultural tours for delegates.

Dear friends,

It is my pleasure to warmly welcome all delegations to this IMF-WB Annual Meeting 2018 being held in Bali, Indonesia. It is our honor and privilege to host this important international event. I believe you will find it an ideal environment here for your vital discussions on current issues in global economic and financial developments. At the same time, the enchanting tropical atmosphere and being in the world's largest archipelago offers you the chance to see conditions on the ground for yourself by combining pleasure with work.

As the IMF has stated, Indonesia is one of the best performing emerging market economies. Our President, H.E. Joko Widodo, firmly agrees with the IMF-World Bank that we can take our economic success to the next level by more investment, particularly in infrastructure, and finding new sources of economic growth. This has been one of the anchors of our government's growth strategy and when you travel here, as we encourage you to do, you will see the evidence of this in the improved transportation connections and infrastructure.

Indonesia offers you 17,000 islands of great natural beauty and richly diverse cultures to explore, where you will encounter the open and sincere welcome of perhaps the most hospitable people on earth. Amongst these islands, we have tried to assist your choices for optional tours by offering a wide variety of destinations and length of tours (60 tour packages) starting from half days to 8 days to explore further and longer.

Bali has been an icon of tropical island paradises for many decades and it is still the flagship for the Indonesian tourism sector. We offer many nature, golf, marine, and cultural tours for delegates. However, we have also chosen six other emerging destinations that offer a wide variety of fascinating experiences for your consideration:

- Komodo islands – home to the world's largest lizards, the famous Komodo "dragons", with tours that offer stunning marine scenery, great snorkeling and diving;
- Lombok and Gili Islands – just a 20-minute hop by air from Bali, this island offers you the unique Sasak culture and Mt. Rinjani, Indonesia's 2nd tallest mountain. The Gili islands just offshore are a wonderful place to kick back in a relaxed and informal beach environment and experience small-scale community-based tourism at its best.
- Tana Toraja – in South Sulawesi, this destination offers the world's most fascinating and complex funeral traditions following the animist tradition of "Aluk Todolo" or The Way of the Ancestors.

- Banyuwangi – located in East Java, it is easily accessible from Bali. It has great natural beauty in the Alas Purwo National Park, off-shore snorkelling with crystal-clear waters, and rich local culture.
- Lake Toba – Found in North Sumatra and near the capital Medan with its rich and unique Batak culture, Lake Toba is one of wonders of the natural world. It is 1130 sq km in size – almost the size of Singapore – and offers stunning natural beauty.
- Yogyakarta – Just an hour's flight from Bali and the heartland of Javanese civilization, Yogyakarta is a marvelous cultural and academic city bursting with youthful creativity. It is also home to two of UNESCO's World Heritage Sites, Borobudur and Prambanan temples.

Wherever you choose to go, I am convinced you will return home with warm memories of a unique visit as well as a deeper understanding of Indonesia, its dynamic growth opportunities, and its unlimited future.

Cordially yours,

Arief Yahya
Minister of Tourism, Republic of Indonesia

Wonderful Journey

The Republic of Indonesia is the largest archipelago in the world comprising 13,466 large and small tropical islands fringed with white sandy beaches, many still uninhabited and a number even still unnamed. Straddling the equator, situated between the continents of Asia and Australia and between the Pacific and the Indian Oceans, it is as wide as the United States from San Francisco to New York, equaling the distance between London and Moscow. Indonesia has a total population of more than 215 million people from more than 200 ethnic groups. The national language is Bahasa Indonesia.

Among the most well known islands are Sumatra, Java, Bali, Kalimantan (formerly Borneo), Sulawesi (formerly Celebes), the Maluku Islands (or better known as Moluccas, the original Spice Islands) and Papua. Then, there is Bali “the world’s best island resort” with its enchanting culture, beaches, dynamic dances and music. But Indonesia still has many unexplored islands with grand mountain views, green rainforests to trek through, rolling waves to surf and deep blue pristine seas to dive in where one can swim with dugongs, dolphins and large mantarays. Because of her location, and geology, Indonesia is blessed with the most diverse landscape, from fertile ricelands on Java and Bali to the luxuriant rainforests of Sumatra, Kalimantan and Sulawesi, to the savannah grasslands of the Nusatenggara islands to snow-capped peaks of West Papua.

Her wildlife ranges from the prehistoric giant Komodo lizard to the Orang Utan and the Java rhino, to the Sulawesi anoa dwarf buffalos, to birds with exquisite plumage like the cockatoo and the bird of paradise. This is also the habitat of the Rafflesia the world’s largest flower, wild orchids, an amazing variety of spices, and aromatic hardwood and a large variety of fruit trees. Underwater, scientists have found in North Sulawesi the prehistoric coelacanth fish, a “living fossil” fish, predating the dinosaurs living some 400 million years ago, while whales migrate yearly through these waters from the South Pole. Here are hundreds of species of colourful coral and tropical fish to admire.

Culturally, Indonesia fascinates with her rich diversity of ancient temples, music, ranging from the traditional to modern pop, dances, rituals and ways of life, changing from island to island, from region to region. Yet everywhere the visitor feels welcomed with that warm, gracious innate friendliness of the Indonesian people that is not easily forgotten.

Facilities-wise Indonesia’s hotels are second to none. In fact, many of our luxurious and unique hotels have constantly been listed as some of the best in the world, located on white sandy beaches, overlooking green river valleys, or situated in the heart of busy capital Jakarta. While Indonesia’s cities like Jakarta, Bandung, Surabaya, or Makassar are a hive of activities for business and leisure and a paradise for shoppers, offering upscale boutiques selling top brand names, to local goods at road-side stalls. Here gourmets can treat themselves to the many regions’ delectable spicy cuisine or dine sumptuously at international restaurants. And for sheer relaxation, Indonesia Spas are second to none to reinvigorate both body and mind.

Convention centers are equipped with state-of-the-art facilities, as many top international conferences and exhibitions are held in Jakarta, Bali to Manado, ranging from the Global Climate Change Conference in Bali to the World Ocean Conference in Manado, to trade and investment exhibitions and tourism trade shows in many provincial capital cities.

Jakarta, Bali, Medan, Padang, Bandung, Solo, Yogyakarta, Surabaya, Makassar are connected by direct international flights, and many regular and low cost carriers fly passengers to Indonesia’s towns or remote locations.

To be more familiar with Indonesia with all its beauty, we invite you to take a tour. Stringing the charm of Indonesia in a journey full of beautiful memories.
